

- January 2013: Boca Raton Museum of Art

- IMPACT: 50 Years of the Council of Fashion Designers of America

- CFDA the leading fashion trade organization in the United States had decided to travel the first museum exhibition to celebrate the quintessentially artistry of American fashion. Spearheaded by Council president, Diane von Furstenberg, and curated by Patricia Mears, deputy director of The Museum at the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT) in New York, and Fred Dennis, the FIT museum's senior curator, the exhibition included garments and accessories by the most impactful creators of the last fifty years.
- RCS Fine Art provided the management of the tour.
